Synthetic rattan wicker furniture has grown in popularity and there are a lot of choices with the variation in colours and styles. We are therefore pleased to announce the Bondi seating collection to our range of Hospitality Furniture. Simple contemporary design, the Bondi series is very light weight and easy to lift and move around.

The Bondi series synthetic rattan furniture is both sturdy and flexible. They are manufactured with a heavy duty welded aluminium frame and do not use any nuts / bolts to hold together, therefore preventing movement unlike other wicker furniture products in the market. The frame is additionally powder coated black to provide excellent protection from the elements.

The synthetic wicker is expertly woven over the frame that makes the collection possible to endure all weather conditions and will stand up to sunlight and rain. The synthetic wicker has been made to avoid cracking, splitting and unravelling.

Nylon webbing is included for increased support to prevent the woven wicker seat from sagging with constant use. Stainless steel feet and foot rails on the stools are the finishing touches to this outdoor seating range of furniture.

The maintenance for synthetic wicker furniture does not need to be treated or maintained. The wicker has excellent ageing qualities and strength to withstand the frosts in winter and the heat waves in summer. It is known to be the best for outdoors as it is mould resistant, washable and fade resistant. It simply needs a clean down with warm water and wiped dried.

The benefit of using rattan wicker material is its ability to be painted in many shades and hues. White finished rattan is wonderful for outdoor entertaining in the summer. Dark rattan is more sober and looks especially fetching next to red and orange fabrics. Natural colours are better paired with green or earthy accents to bring the look of the outdoors inside.

Choosing to mix and match lounge suites or tables with our seating collection creates more options, more opportunities and more selections for furniture ensembles.

The Bondi seating collection is backed with a 2 year manufacturer's warranty and meets the standards required by hotels, cafés, restaurants and resorts.
